THANKS

my family for their unbridled support and encouragement. my teachers: lynn seaton, adam thomas, dave detwiler, and especially the endlessly humble and patient dan leonard. the original members, MIA on this first installment: jon deitemyer, ji young lee, mike maher, mike st. clair, and murray james morrison for ultimately shaping the group. the rehearsal savers: alejandro flores, steve pruit, josh hanlon, brian girley, pags, nickbag, and matt sawyer. the greenhouse and andy laviolette for giving us a homecourt. our numerous friends in denton, texas, leeds, england, and northern virginia for their constant support, especially dr. john murphy and mike solomon williams. our friends behind the mixers: erik and marc herbst, joel "el presidente" fountain at panhandle house, charlie pilzer at airshow, and our man in the field, mike vasquez. maria-randolph for the photos and constant inspiration, neel and jared stone for making sure it was done justice. the faith-healer, don hayward for his amazing work on human tendons. i would have donated my arms to science without you. b-dub and kharma the snarky dog for her outstanding work. the muses: dave holland, marc johnson, modereko, pino palladino, the city of chicago, bloomington, indiana, cape breton, and the people therein for unknowingly giving me these songs. most importantly, i want to share my unending gratitude to a group of musicians that humbly and patiently put life into this music. to them and bill laurance especially, i say thank you.

michael
